Complete photography, graphics and content production guide for the storefront.

For creative directors, photographers, and producers.

Do NOT invent placeholder images from this document.

Brand colors: Power Pink #E8006F | Ink #2A1A22 | Canvas / Blush / Pearl

Estimated launch assets: about 190-220 unique deliverables (seed catalog)

1. How to use this brief

This document lists every image, icon, and graphic the website needs before launch. Photographers and designers should produce assets to these exact sizes. The website already has placeholders ready to be replaced.

- Retina Yes = deliver a sharp 2x master (or one high-res file at least 2x display size).
- Lazy Yes = image loads as the user scrolls (better performance).
- Priority Yes = critical first-screen image; load immediately.
- Never bake marketing text or prices into photos.
- Skeleton loading states are CSS only -- no image files needed.

2. Brand photography direction (all lifestyle)

Master lifestyle standard

Lighting: Soft daylight or large diffused light. Gentle falloff. Avoid harsh hospital white.
Background: Pearl, soft white, blush pink, pale ceramic or linen. Never busy patterns.
Composition: Quiet, editorial. Generous empty space. Product must be readable. Max 1-2 products or few props.
Camera angle: Eye-level or slight 3/4. Overhead only for intentional flat-lays. Macro for texture.
Mood: Calm, premium, trustworthy, modern Korean skincare.
Styling: Minimal props: soft cotton, ceramic, light botanicals. No glitter, neon, or cluttered drugstore shelves.

Packshot studio standard (products and cards)

Lighting: Even softbox / light tent. Label must be readable.
Background: Seamless pearl or soft blush.
Composition: Product centered with about 8-12% empty margin around edges.
Camera angle: Front 3/4, consistent across all SKUs for a clean grid.
Mood: Clean laboratory-calm luxury.
Styling: No props on card packshots. Save lifestyle for separate lifestyle frames.
